What other information should you consider before deciding whether to proceed with our recommendations?

If you receive personal financial advice this will be documented in a Statement of Advice (SoA), or in specific circumstances a Record of Advice (RoA), that confirms the discussions you have had with us, the recommendations we are making and the basis for those recommendations. These documents will also explain how those recommendations will work towards achieving your goals, any relevant fees received by us, and any associations with financial product providers.

When a financial product is recommended to you, you will be provided with a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) or other disclosure document issued by the product provider. Among other things, the PDS contains information about the risks, benefits, features and fees payable in respect of the product. In combination, these documents will help you make an informed decision about whether to proceed with our recommendations.

What products are available?

A range of financial products offered by many leading financial product providers are available to our advisers when they provide personal advice.

Internal and external experts provide financial product research, which is used to carefully select and maintain an extensive list of Approved Products for us to select from.

When providing personal advice to you, our advisers may only recommend a product to you if they consider it is appropriate after considering your objectives, financial situation and needs.

How do we ensure that the personal advice we give you suits your needs and objectives?

To ensure your adviser provides personal advice that is appropriate, we firstly need to understand your objectives, financial situation and needs. Your adviser (referred to as 'we' below) will follow a step-by-step process as outlined below:

- 1) We will meet with you for an initial consultation. During this meeting we will discuss your expectations and provide you with details of the services we can offer.
- 2) We will collect all the information we need from you, including your objectives, financial situation and needs. If you do not wish to provide the information we require, we will advise you of the possible consequences of not disclosing this information and the impact on the recommendations given. This may include not being able to provide advice on the subject matter you request.
- 3) We will help you identify your goals and discuss your attitude towards investment risk and investment returns.
- 4) We may consider strategies and areas such as income, social security, insurance, cash and estate planning requirements. Where we recommend a financial product, we will also conduct a reasonable investigation of the financial products that may be suitable to implement the strategies as part of the recommendations. Based on these and other considerations, we will prepare and present you with a written SoA, or in some cases depending on the circumstances, an RoA. We will explain in the SoA (or RoA) the basis for the advice, and any remuneration, benefits or associations which could have influenced the advice.

Where we recommend financial products, we will provide you with a PDS or other disclosure document containing information about each product recommended, to help you make an informed decision about whether to invest in or acquire that product.

- 5) We will discuss our recommendations with you, confirm your understanding of our advice to you, make any changes you require and ask you whether you would like us to implement those recommendations on your behalf.

- 6) If you agree, we will then implement those recommendations.
- 7) We will meet with you periodically to review your financial circumstances if we agree to an ongoing advice service arrangement which includes a regular review component.

We will also explain to you any significant risks of the financial products and strategies which we recommend to you. If you are unclear of the risks, do not hesitate to question us further.

In certain circumstances, we may not provide you with personal advice via a SoA or RoA, as outlined above. These circumstances may include:

- 1) Where we provide you with general advice only, such as through seminars and newsletters;
- 2) When we are acting under a Managed Discretionary Account (MDA) Service which allows us to manage investments on your behalf, if you have agreed to this service as a result of a recommendation we have made in a SoA.
- 3) Further advice or verbal advice – if you previously received advice recorded in a SoA, any further personal advice provided by us may be recorded in a RoA. You may request a copy of the RoA from us by contacting us for a period of seven years from when the further advice was first provided to you.

How can you instruct us?

You may specify how you would like to give us instructions, for example, by phone or email using any of the contact details set out in Section 4 of this Guide. Alternatively, you may provide instructions to us in person. Where instructions are provided by telephone, these must be confirmed in writing.

We may provide services other than financial planning services. While we may facilitate these other services, you should understand that these other services are not provided under Whittle & Skok's AFSL and Whittle & Skok does not train, support or supervise the provision of these other services and has no responsibility in relation to these services.

Examples of the services which Whittle & Skok is not responsible for include the following:

- general insurance services (e.g. car insurance)
- real estate and direct property advice

- tax agent services, such as completion of tax returns, accounting and audit services
- legal services
- credit activities
- consulting services

How are we paid for our services?

Whittle & Skok may receive:

- fees paid by clients
- commissions paid by insurance providers
- other benefits

Details of any fees, commissions or other benefits that Whittle & Skok are entitled to receive if you implement our recommendations in relation to a specific financial product, will be disclosed to you in your SoA or RoA when personal advice is given.

All fees, commissions and incentives are paid to and received by Whittle & Skok. Our Financial Advisers (AFSL Representatives) are salaried employees and may also receive a performance bonus, based on a balanced score card which does not influence their advice, or any recommendations made.

What type of fees, commissions, payments and other benefits does Whittle & Skok receive for our services?

As part of detailed financial planning, there are costs to you at various stages of the process. Before making any recommendations, we will discuss and agree on the fees with you.

If the fees, commissions or other benefits are not calculable at the time we provide personal advice, we will describe the way they are calculated at the time the advice is given or as soon as practicable thereafter. If you receive general advice you may request particulars of the fees, commissions and other benefits that we may receive, within a reasonable time after this FSG is given to you.

The types of fees, commissions and other benefits that may be received by Whittle & Skok include the following. You may be charged a combination, or part of, any of these fees.

Initial advice

We may charge fees for the preparation of a personalised financial plan (SoA), presentation and implementation of our advice. Initial advice fees range from a minimum $2,500 plus GST up to $9,000 plus

GST. The fees will be based on your individual circumstances, the complexity involved in your situation and the time it takes to prepare personal financial advice for you. We will discuss these fees with you and gain your agreement to the fees before we provide you with advice.

Ongoing advice fees

We may charge a fee for the provision of ongoing services and/or to provide ongoing portfolio reviews.

If you choose to have Whittle & Skok provide ongoing advice services, you may be charged a fee based on the scope of services you receive and/or the value of your investment portfolio or insurance premiums. This fee will range between 0.50% pa and 1.00% pa plus GST, calculated on the value of the investment portfolio. A minimum annual fee of $1,200 plus GST applies.

For our Tailored Portfolio Solutions under a MDA service, fees are based on a tiered fee scale up to 1.5% p.a. plus GST applied to the value of your investment portfolio. A minimum annual fee of $4,125 (inclusive of GST) applies.

Full details of all fees and commissions for financial services will be provided to you in a Statement of Advice (SoA), or Record of Advice (RoA) and Product Disclosure Statements at the time of receiving any recommendation.

Referral fees

If we refer you to another business to provide you with services, Whittle & Skok may receive referral fees. Those fees may vary according to the party to whom we are referring, and the products involved. These fees are not paid or passed through to your adviser.

We will provide written notification to you if we are likely to receive referral fees for referring you to another service provider.

Payment methods

Our fees are either invoiced to you directly, or deducted from your portfolio value, or a combination of these methods. In most instances you will be able to select the method of payment that suits you best. We will discuss and agree the method of payment with you before we provide you with services.

Life Insurance Products

Initial and ongoing commissions from insurance providers may be received by Whittle & Skok. These commissions are paid to Whittle & Skok by the company that issues the product that we recommend to you and they are included in what you pay for the product. The commissions vary and are based on the policy cost, which is the sum of the premiums you pay and may include other fees related to the product.

If you initiate an increase to your cover, Whittle & Skok may receive an initial commission and ongoing commissions on the increase to your policy cost. The ongoing commission on a client initiated increase is only paid in respect of the period that starts from the first anniversary of the increase.

Date a new product is issued	Initial commission (% of annual policy cost or increase excl. GST)	Ongoing commission pa (% of annual policy cost or increase excl. GST)
From 1 January 2020*	0 - 60%	0 - 20%

* Whittle & Skok may receive the pre 1 January 2020 commission rates from the product issuer if:

- > your policy was issued before 1 January 2020 and you exercise an option or apply for additional cover under your policy after 1 January 2020; or
- > your policy was issued before 1 January 2020 and is replaced after 1 January 2020 to correct an administrative error.

Example Life Insurance Product Commission

We recommend an insurance product to you and it is applied for and issued on 2 February 2020. The annual policy cost is $450. Whittle & Skok may receive up to $270 (60% excl. GST) as an initial commission. Assuming the policy cost stays the same each year, Whittle & Skok may receive up to $90 pa (20% excl. GST) as an ongoing commission.

You will find details of how your insurance policy cost is calculated in the relevant PDS that we provide you. Where personal advice is provided to you, you will also find details of the commission that Whittle & Skok may receive if you decide to purchase a life insurance product, in your SoA or RoA.

Other benefits

From time to time we may accept alternative forms of remuneration from product providers or other parties, such as hospitality or support connected with our professional development (e.g. training or sponsorship to attend conferences). We maintain a register detailing any benefit we receive which is valued between $100 and $300 and other benefits that relate to information technology software or support provided

Managed Discretionary Account services

A Managed Discretionary Account service ('MDA') is a financial service that allows an Australian Financial Services Licensee (and its representatives) to invest in financial products on behalf of a client, and/or manage a client's (financial product) investment portfolio, on a discretionary basis.

The discretion can be used to rebalance a client's portfolio, or replace a financial product with another, without having to contact the client and obtain the client's authority to make the changes.

Whittle & Skok may recommend our MDA service to you in your SoA, where we believe it is appropriate for your circumstances.

If you agree that Whittle & Skok can manage the portfolio on a discretionary basis, you must enter into a Managed Discretionary Account Services Contract ('MDA Contract') with Whittle & Skok which will be provided to you in conjunction with your SoA.

What are the significant risks associated with using our MDA service?

The discretion involved in a MDA service will allow Whittle & Skok to make changes to your investments without seeking your prior consent. By giving us the discretion, you are bound by our actions and the changes we make to your investments (provided the changes are within the limits of the discretion and in accordance with the Corporations Act).

It is important you understand what we are authorised to do and carefully read and understand the activities that you are authorising us to perform on your behalf. You should contact us if you have any questions.

Neither Whittle & Skok, nor any related or associated person or body corporate guarantees or makes any representations concerning the future performance of the managed funds, securities (shares), the return of capital, any specific level of performance, the success or tax effectiveness of any strategy Whittle & Skok may use, or the success of Whittle & Skok overall decisions pursuant to the discretion granted by you.

The investment decisions made by Whittle & Skok are subject to various market, currency, economic, political and business risks, and those investment decisions may not always be profitable and may at times result in losses.

There is also a risk that Whittle & Skok's investment management and investment decisions will not achieve your expectations and needs. These risks may also affect the value of your investment and the return you may receive.

Actions that Whittle & Skok takes pursuant to the discretion may trigger a capital gains tax liability, depending on your personal tax position. You should seek advice about the tax implications that would be applicable to you.

If Whittle & Skok replace one financial product with another, you may incur Buy/Sell fees or you may be charged brokerage by the platform provider and you will lose any other benefits of ownership of the financial product being replaced.

How can I give Whittle & Skok instructions on corporate actions relating to the financial products in my portfolio?

Where you provide us discretion under a MDA Contract, Whittle & Skok will exercise discretion in relation to the exercise of any rights attaching to your share investments and will not seek your written instructions on how to exercise those rights. Accordingly, you will not have the ability to give us instructions about how to exercise those rights. If you were investing in shares directly and not through a Regulated Platform or MDA service, you would be able to decide how to exercise any rights attaching to the shares.

For investments in managed funds, clients do not generally have any rights or entitlements in respect of the underlying investments held by the managed fund. Accordingly, we will not generally have any input into decisions about rights or entitlements (such as corporate actions).

Do I have to enter into a contract for you to provide MDA Services?

Yes. Before we can provide you with any MDA services you must first enter into a MDA Contract with Whittle & Skok. This contract will set out the terms and conditions of the MDA Service.

Who prepares the investment program?

Whittle & Skok will prepare and provide to you a MDA Investment Program. The Investment Program is prepared in accordance with the regulatory requirements, which complies with Division 3 of Part 7.7 and Division 2 of Part 7.7A of the Corporations Act, and will be given to you before you enter into the MDA Contract.

What information will be included in the MDA Contract and our accompanying Statement of Advice?

We must determine if the MDA is appropriate for you based on your objectives, personal circumstances, needs and financial position, and is in your best interests, and give you a written Statement of Advice that includes our recommendations and remuneration disclosure.

The MDA Investment Program will also contain:

- The nature and scope of the discretions that we will be authorised and required to exercise under the MDA Contract and any investment strategy that is to be applied in exercising those discretions;
- Information about any significant risks associated with the MDA Contract and the investment strategy;
- The basis on which we consider the MDA Contract to be suitable for you; and
- Warnings that our MDA service may not be suitable for you if we have formed the view that you have provided us with inaccurate or limited information about your relevant personal circumstances or if your relevant personal circumstances change. It is important that you inform us immediately if your circumstances change.

Who is responsible for reviewing the investment program?

We are required to review your investment program to ensure that it remains suitable for you. This review must take place at least once every 13 months. In addition:

- You may cancel the MDA service or request changes to the Investment Program at any time by first notifying us in writing.
- For direct share investments only, you may give us discretion to exercising any rights relating to the direct share investments in your portfolio (for example, corporate actions). In all other circumstances, we will only act in accordance with your written instructions on how any rights relating to these products in your portfolio are to be exercised.

- Whittle & Skok places certain limits on the discretionary services, such as:
 - We are not permitted to trade on your account(s) in an attempt to make short term gains. All investment decisions must be made with long term goals in mind.
 - We are required to maintain your portfolio within a specified range for each asset class or as further restricted by you.

These limits on our discretion will be described in more detail in your SoA and within the content of the MDA Contract.

- You will be provided with access to on-line reporting for your nominated account(s) to view the transactions undertaken on your behalf and the impact on your portfolio. If you do not have internet access, we will provide you with a quarterly report to review transactions undertaken on your behalf.
- The MDA service does not include a custodial or depository service, as this is facilitated through your nominated cash management account and/or administration service.

Outsourcing arrangements

We have the following outsourcing arrangements in place:

- Custodial and depository services: Provided by the respective platform provider. Please refer to the relevant Product Disclosure Statement or Investor Directed Portfolio Service Guide for further information.
- Broking services: Provided by the respective platform provider or via CommSec (Ausix).

Selection of outsourced providers

Our approach to the selection of our outsourced service providers involves taking into consideration financial stability, administration systems, provision of services, quality of data provided, cost of services and competitiveness in the market.

Outsourcing: ongoing monitoring & controls

We ensure that the outsourced arrangements which we put in place are delivered in accordance with our obligations to you.

Fees and costs associated with your MDA service

The actual fees and costs relevant to the MDA service will be detailed in the SoA that will be given to you. Our investment decisions may have capital gains or income taxation consequences for you depending on your personal tax position.

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance, rather than 1%, could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

If you would like to find out more or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed investment fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

The table below shows fees and other costs that you may be charged under the MDA service. These fees and costs may be deducted from your investment, the returns on your investment or from the MDA service assets as a whole. You should also seek advice on the tax implications of the MDA service. You should read all the information about fees and other costs, as it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

All fees in the previous table are shown inclusive of GST, net of Reduced Input Tax Credits ('RITC'). Additional fees and charges may apply. See 'Additional explanation of fees and costs' below for further information. The information in the previous table can be used to compare costs between the MDA service and different simple managed investment products. ASIC provides a calculator on its website www.moneysmart.gov.au. The calculator can be used to calculate the effect of fees and costs on account balances.

Example of annual fees and costs of the MDA service

The following table provides an example of how the MDA service fees and costs can affect your investment over a one-year period. You should use this table to compare the MDA service with other MDA services and simple managed investment products (Managed Funds).

The example assumes an account balance of $50,000 invested in the MDA service with no variation in the value of your investment over this period. In practice, the actual fees we charge are generally based on the value of your investment which may vary daily. This example also assumes that the additional $5,000 contribution occurs at the end of the relevant period (that is, no management fees are incurred in connection with the additional investment amount).

Example	Fee	Balance of $50,000 with total contributions of $5,000 at the end of the year
Contribution fees	Nil	For every additional $5,000 you put in, you will be charged a contribution fee of $0.
PLUS Management costs	3.65%	And for every $50,000 you have in the MDA service, you will be charged $1,825 each year comprising;
Comprising
Ongoing services and MDA fee	1.65% pa	$825
Platform administration fee	0.46% pa	$230
Fund Management fees	1.54% pa	$770
EQUALS cost of MDA service	3.65% pa	$1,825

Notes to example

- You may also incur a buy/sell spread when your money moves in or out of the MDA service. See 'Buy/Sell spread' under the section, 'Additional explanation of fees and costs' for further information.
- Fund Management fees are often calculated using the average Indirect Cost Ratio ('ICR') for the relevant portfolio of the MDA service for the financial year. The ICR refers to the management costs that were not paid directly out of your account (for example MDA Service Fees and Platform Fees) but were paid from the MDA service assets over the relevant financial year, expressed as a percentage of the average net asset value of the MDA service. It is not a forecast of the amount of the total management costs in the future. Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance, and the amount of the management costs may be higher or lower in the future.
- The calculation of the management costs in the example assumes that the additional $5,000 invested in the MDA service occurs at the end of the relevant period and therefore no management fees are payable on the additional investment. Additional fees may apply, as well as the abnormal expense recovery. Refer to 'Additional explanation of fees and costs' below for more information.

Additional explanation of fees and costs

Management Costs

Ongoing management costs for the portfolio(s) vary between platform providers but generally comprise of:

- MDA Service Fees payable to us for providing the service.
- A platform fee payable to the platform provider.
- Platform Cost Recovery Fees, if applicable, payable to the platform provider.
- Indirect costs (Indirect Cost Ratio), if any, based upon information available from the underlying product issuer and reasonable estimates as at the date of this FSG.

Indirect Cost Ratio (ICR)

The ICR refers to the management costs charged by issuers of certain products that were not paid directly out of your account. These indirect costs are deducted from the assets of the portfolio over the relevant financial year, expressed as a percentage of the average net asset value of the MDA service. You should refer to the relevant product disclosure statement for full details on the fees and costs charged by the product issuers of any managed funds, Exchange Traded Funds, Real Estate Investment Trusts, or Listed Investment Companies.

Administrative expenses

Other costs you may pay in relation to the MDA service are the fees and expenses of the Platform provider as set out in the relevant Product Disclosure Statement or Investor Directed Portfolio Service (IDPS) Guide which may include Expense Recovery Fees.

Transaction Fees

Transaction costs incurred in the acquisition or disposal of the assets of the MDA service such as brokerage, clearing costs, transaction fees, taxes and stamp duty will generally be paid for from the assets within the portfolio.

Brokerage

Brokerage is charged on financial products traded on Australian markets (ASX and Chi-X) based on the transaction value. For example, if the order was for $50,000, the cost for brokerage may be $60 ($$50,000 \times 0.12\%$). The rate of brokerage will vary depending on the platform provider or trading platform used to implement the trade.

Buy/Sell spread

The buy/sell spread is a fee charged by a Fund Manager to place or redeem an investment. These costs generally range between 0.00% and 0.80%, up to $8.00 per $1,000 invested.

Buy/sell spreads apply at the time of each transaction and are charged by the individual product issuers in one of two ways:

- by reducing the particular investment option's performance (unit price), or
- by adjusting the application and/or withdrawal price.

When financial products are acquired, a "buy spread" may be incurred. The buy spread is an amount which reflects the estimated transaction costs associated with acquiring the underlying investments and may take into account the difference between the bid/offer price of investments traded and/or the estimated market impact of the acquisitions on the price of the investments being acquired.

When financial products are disposed of, a "sell spread" is incurred. The sell spread is an amount which reflects the estimated transaction costs of disposing of the underlying investments and may take into account the difference between the bid/offer price of investments traded and/or the estimated market impact of the disposals on the price of the investments being sold.

Information about fee changes

We will provide at least 30 days' notice to you of any proposed increase in fees, charges or expenses (except any changes to the buy/sell spread).

Please note: The fees and costs outlined above are accurate as at the date of this FSG.
